Trains

Most major vacation destinations are served by the European system of comfortable and reliable passenger trains.

These trains can be either high-speed or leisurely for scenic excursions. Some of the most famous high speed trains include the Eurostar, TVG, ICE, Pendolino and Thalys. The Eurostar connects Paris, London and Brussels and the Thalys connects Paris, Amsterdam and Brussels. If you prefer an Italian flair, try the Pendolino express. It connects Paris and Rome. From Rome you can continue to Venice moving to Switzerland, entering the realm of the masters of train travel, and finally to the ICE in Germany.

Create your own tour by combining several city stays with rail travel between each.

Contact your travel agent for specific details and pricing.

- Or once you've gained the confidence of travel with an escorted tour, extend your vacation by spending a few extra days in the city – giving you ample opportunity to test your newly learned European skills.
- Combine an escorted tour with a Rail tour streaking across the country, from Palm trees to Glaciers, all within the span of a few hours.

Why not design your own holiday? Extend your tour into an unlimited adventure. Begin or end your tour with a stay in one of the major cities, then take one of Europe's famous high speed trains to your beginning destination.
